Carey has helped the International Finance Corporation (IFC) and US private equity investor Calverton each sell half of their stakes in Chilean finance group Consorcio Financiero for US$87 million.

Consorcio Financiero relied on its in-house legal team.

The deal closed on 29 June.

IFC and Calverton amended their existing put option agreement, a contract that allows shareholders to divest a portion of a security within a specified time frame and for a pre-agreed price.

Following the amendment, the finance groups each sold 50% of their respective interest in the Chilean bank. IFC now holds a 2.94% stake in Consorcio Financiero, whilst Calverton has a 1.18% share.

The interest was divested to three existing Consorcio shareholders in Chile: investment group Banvida, retailer P&S and the local subsidiary of UK oil and gas company BP.
