JAIME CAREY JOINS IBA'S GENDER EQUITY INITIATIVE

Our Managing Partner, along with other 11 lawyers from around the world, will help enhance the role of women lawyers through different activities. The group's functions include promoting gender parity change in the legal profession, providing insight, advice, and best practices from a male law firm leader perspective, participating in seminars and roundtables as male advocates, among others.

At Carey we are committed to diversity, gender equity and inclusion. "To achieve more parity at the top, gender equity initiatives must have the robust support not only of women, but of men and especially those who are already in leadership positions. If the pandemic taught us something is that change is not only possible, but necessary. I am very honored and feel a great responsibility as a part of this group and the work that the IBA is doing to bring attention to issues of
